

Today's news reveals that Pappas Telecasting Companies' are giving $325,000 in airtime to Republican candidates in certain areas. This is yet another example of a powerful media group abusing its privileged access to the public airwaves.

Local audiences should be offered genuine debate -- not disingenuous offers to "purchase" an equal amount of response time.

Pappas uses the public airwaves free of charge and is obligated by law to serve the public interest.

Pappas' actions are legally questionable and cast doubt on whether the companies truly intend to serve the public interest.

Their actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Further, they show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than just a returned postcard.

Thank you.
